

DONNA GALANTI

AUTHOR VISITS

"Ms. Galanti came to visit our middle school's creative writing group, and she was awesome! She shared her creative process from start to finish and is a talented writer and an inspiration. By the end of her engaging presentation, the students felt as though they, too, were capable of achieving their goals of writing a book and becoming published authors. We can't wait to have her back!"—Erica Cranden, English Teacher, William Annin Middle School, NJ

Assembly Program Elements

Donna's dynamic presentations are aimed at helping children tap into their own creativity and are geared for third through seventh grades. She can work with small or large audiences, and will tailor programs to fit your needs. Donna's program offers:

- Humorous tales that will engage the students and get them laughing.
- A peek at the writing journey! Inspire students to believe that they are just as qualified to be a writer as any adult (even more so!). Students will get a snapshot of Donna's writer's journey from her first story as a child to the publication of her first children's book and why she writes fantasy. Also, a day in the life of an author and how life is writing material!
- Brainstorming! Why brainstorming is important to story development (while also giving you permission to write!). She will share how she gets unstuck from "writer's block" and read samples of her own brainstorm activity.
- Worldbuilding! How this can help your story world. Including research and map creation.
- Three nuggets of storytelling that include character, setting, and conflict. Plus enjoy an audience-engaged activity for students to create their own story! This can flow into a follow-up writing exercise in the classroom.
- The importance of not giving up with emphasis on REVISION and PERSEVERANCE. Students will hear about the agony of rejection letters as Donna reads excerpts from some of her own and shares how revision helped her book get published.
- Q&A with you! Be sure to have 1-2 questions ahead of time. 😊
- Classroom visits include a writing exercise.
- Bookmarks plus autographed bookplates available for Unicorn Island only.
