LOON COVE SUMMER

BY DONNA GALANTI

Thirteen-year-old Sarah Richardson is determined that her life will finally get unstuck this summer. She just knows it. Her to-do list? Brave the lake again. Save the loons. Stop missing Mom. Her one bright spot: volunteering at the local wild bird rehabilitation center. The summer looks even brighter when Sarah meets Theo, the boy staying at her family's Maine lakeside campground who cares about protecting the loons just like she does. But when Sarah's family may have to move, she adds a new to-do item: save their home. And when she suspects Dad is dating Theo's aunt, the naturalist helping research environmental dangers to the loons, Sarah is caught in a new world of grief. With the looming reality of losing her dad, her home, and the loons, Sarah must make a big statement to take control of her life. Capturing inspiration from her late mother's Appalachian Trail hiking journal, she boldly plans a solo wild adventure. But as her challenges mount, she wonders if her courage will earn her the voice she seeks—or if she's made a reckless choice that just might claim her life.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Donna Galanti is the author of the middle-grade Unicorn Island series and the Joshua and the Lightning Road series. She has lived in fun locations including England, her family-owned campground in New Hampshire, and in Hawaii where she served as a U.S. Navy photographer. Donna is an avid outdoor adventurer and nature lover. She volunteers for the Old-Growth Forest Network and with the National Audubon Society. For details on her books, events, and school programs, visit donnagalanti.com.

PRAISE FOR LOON COVE SUMMER:

"An original and fun read from start to finish … inherently compelling and skillfully crafted. With its unexpected plot twists and deftly crafted characters, unreservedly recommended." – Midwest Book Review

"A warm-hearted novel … balances profound loss with humor and hope."
– Kate Allen, author of The Line Tender

"A page-turning read set in the wilds of Maine."
– Paul Greci, author of Surviving Bear Island

"As sparkling, refreshing, and mysterious as a Maine lake in summertime."
– Cathy Carr, author of 365 Days to Alaska

"The cast of unforgettable characters and tender relationships stays with you."
– Jessica Rinker, author of The Dare Sisters

KEY SELLING POINTS:

- A poignant story steeped in friendship and family alongside hilarity and grief.
- For readers searching for meaning and adventure in their own world of firsts.
- A multi-generational cast of witty, quirky characters full of sweet encounters.
- Richly drawn lakeside, camp setting with a wildlife conservation theme.

info@wildtrailpress.com • www.donnagalanti.com

Publisher: Wild Trail Press
Distributor: IngramSpark
Pub Date: May 06, 2025
Hardcover: $23.99
978-1-7363162-7-6
Paperback: $13.99
978-1-7363162-6-9
eBook: $5.99
978-1-7363162-8-3
Trim: 5.5" x 8.5", 286 pages
Middle Grade: Ages: 8-12

Keywords: friendship, grief and loss, environmental causes, family, Appalachian Trail, lakes, camping, nature, adventure, coming-of-age, bird conservation

Audience:

- Nature and science lovers
- Outdoor adventure seekers
- Readers of survival stories
- Fans of environmental causes
- Youth in bereavement

BISAC Categories Juvenile Fiction:

- Social Themes / Death, Grief, Bereavement
- Science & Nature / Environment

Wild Trail Press

IngramSpark